In February and March 2008 the International Program and the Department of Architecture and Design at the Museum of Modern Art organised the museum's first symposium on the modernist architecture of the Caribbean and bordering Latin American countries in collaboration with the Caribbean School of Architecture at the University of Technology Kingston Jamaica. The goal was to encourage scholarly curatorial and broader educational awareness. Topics covered included regional and international legacies, preservation, environmental sustainability and urban planning as they relate to modernist architectural history and contemporary practice. The presenters were leading architects and architectural historians from the region and attendees included their colleagues as well as local and international university students, policy makers, civic leaders and developers from Jamaica, the surrounding Caribbean islands and the United States. This illustrated volume co-published by MoMA and Archivos de Arquitectura Antillana AAA, an architectural journal based in the Dominican Republic, presents the papers from this critical symposium in both English and Spanish, making them accessible to a broader public.

Newly revised and redesigned, this book assesses nearly 500 years of urban development and planning in Havana, paying particular attention to the city's rich blend of Spanish, Cuban, Latin American, and North American architecture and design.

la presente obra versa sobre lo que ha ocurrido en el país en lo que concierne a la arquitectura durante diferentes etapas de nuestro devenir histórico el mismo es más que una relación de nombres fechas y obras un texto de perfil académico enriquecido con una presentación eminentemente gráfica atendiendo a la naturaleza de su objeto de estudio
